

Risk change out of love for Jesus

Change can sometimes overtake us but sometimes we initiate it. Change must never be simply for the sake of change. Some of us excel in this, always restless and unfulfilled.

When we initiate change it must be in obedience to the Lord. This obedience may seem costly or even painful. When it is there miracles begin to happen. One of the privileges that we have in Redacre is that we meet Christians who have stepped out in faith in obedience to the Lord. We cannot recall one who has regretted it.

We sometimes look in amazement at all the Lord has given us but it began many years ago when we stepped out not knowing where we were going or where provision was to come from. Many friends thought that we were making a mistake.

We risked change out of love for Jesus. Do we regret those anxious, difficult years? We do not. The Lord has led us by a sure path. He is faithful. He alone does not change. "I, the Lord do not change." Mal.3:6

path with me.
